Report of the Secretary of the Association.

To the Association :

It was our pleasure to announce in our last Annual Report to the Association the final completion, furnishing and full occupation of the east wing of the Home. There remained at that time an indebtedness of about $3,200, contracted in that enterprize, which, it was then stated ought not to remain another year. That entire indebtedness is now extinguished, and the Lady Managers have fully redeemed the pledge which they gave, on entering into contracts, that they would be responsible for raising what funds should be needed over and above the amount then on hand applicable to the purpose. It will be seen by the Report of the Treasurer of the Assets and Liabilities of the Institution, that the only remnant of debt consists of the bonds and mortgages upon the old building and property, not including the new building, or the land on which it stands, and amounting to $7,575.

Against this the Institution holds assets applicable as follows :
Bonds and mortgages on the North Second Street
property $3,767 00
Bond and mortgage on the corner of Union Avenue and South Third Street 1,000 00
Cash on hand without encroaching on the School fund.. 941 05

$5,708 05

It has been the policy of the Trustees to hold the permanent mortgage investments as a kind of sinking fund and to apply them as fast as realized in payment of the debt. Under this policy, the fund already held by the Association will go far toward cancelling the entire indebtedness of the Association. Indeed the annual income from these investments, and from rents of the stable on the Home property, will very nearly balance the annual expenditure for interest on our mortgage debt and water taxes, which are the only taxes for which the Institution is liable. As the Board of Trustees are held more especially responsible for the care of the Real Estate Fund and property, it is respectfully suggested that measures might be taken by them to increase this Reserve or Sinking Fund until the fund and the increase therefrom shall at least equal the debt and annual expenditure on Real Estate Account.

The ordinary operations of the Home, so far as they have come within the immediate knowledge of the Board of Trustees, through the monthly report of the teacher and Superintendent and otherwise, have maintained the same high standard of usefulness and efficiency as in former years. All these matters are found in detail in the report of the Secretary of the Board of Managers, and a summary of the report made to the Board of Trustees would be only matter of repetition. It will appear from the reports that there has been an increase in the work accomplished over the preceding year.

The Treasurer's Report which is herewith submitted shows in minute detail all the sources of income and items of expenditures for the year, and also a statement of the assets and liabilities.

In considering the results attained in the instruction of children, it must be remembered that the average time for which our children remain under the influence of the Home is very brief. It is not the policy of the managers to keep children in the Institution for an indefinite time, but rather to encourage their return to their friends, or to place them in good homes as soon as possible. It is believed that the average term for which children are here kept will not exceed three or four months—a time too limited to furnish any marked results in the way of instruction. For instance in the year just closed there were received in all 169 There were placed at adoption and in homes, indentured and returned to parents 153

The average number in the Home during the year was 140

These figures show the constant change which is going on of children coming and going through the year, while comparatively very few remain for any considerable period, and those for exceptional reasons. It must always be impossible under such circumstances, and with very young children to show an advanced grade of scholarship in the mass of the school, but the attainments of those scholars whose term of service has been long enough to receive a more lasting impression, show the result of their teacher's care and skill in solid and marked improvement.

An unusual degree of sickness and mortality has prevailed for a short season during the year, six children having died since our last report. The extraordinary efforts which are made to preserve cleanliness and purity of air throughout the building, and to supply wholesome and nutritious food are proof that this sickness is the result of causes beyond our power to control or prevent. The most vigorous measures were taken and the Home is now in the best sanitary condition.

The operations of the Home and School have been conducted with entire harmony among the boards and officers connected with the management. There has been no discouragement, but on the contrary, everything to encourage to future and better efforts. The work grows from year to year both in usefulness and in the confidence of the public. We believe our Institution to be worthy of the largest assistance and support and that the funds here contributed are wisely and usefully employed in a discriminating and twice blessed charity, blessing him who gives as well as him who takes. Inviting in still larger measure that co-operation from the public which are so necessary to success—we submit our Annual Reports to the Association.

Respectfully submitted,

GEORGE H. FISHER, Secretary.

ANNUAL REPORT

OF THE

Recording Secretary of the Board of Managers.

In our report of last year, which marked the quarter century of our existence, we felt we had great cause for gratitude. But each recurring year brings new mercies, and an ever increasing sense of love and thankfulness to the great Giver of every good ; so that as we present our report at this twenty-sixth annual meeting, with the labor and thought of years rewarded in the completion and furnishing of the new wing, and every claim paid, we may well quote the words of scripture, "Hitherto hath the Lord helped us." But while we rejoice over our improved facilities for carrying on our work, we must not forget or underrate what we have been permitted to accomplish morally, in this community ; and not only in this community, but in every home where our little ones have been received. Our work is to rescue, befriend, educate and place in positions where they can help themselves, the destitute and friendless children in our midst. Our report gives statistics, but what finite mind can measure the unseen influence of the work of the past year ? And have not we, the patrons and helpers in the work, as our sympathies have been enlisted and our hearts enlarged by our gifts, been benefited by it ? Is it not "more blessed to give than to receive" ?

Our success is largely due to the efficiency of our Superintendent and matron, upon whom devolve the details of the work in the Home. The former, Miss E. T. Whittlesey, being peculiarly fitted for her work, has gained the love and respect of both old and young, while our children, under the influence of our esteemed matron, Mrs. Perkins, realize the comforts of a well ordered home.

We have had between four and five hundred applications for girls from twelve to fifteen years old, capable of assisting in house-work.

The work of our committees, though varied in its detail, is much the same from year to year.

Our Executive Committee hold their meetings weekly at 3 P. M. on Friday. They receive applications for children for adoption, examine cases of admission and dismissal; supervise the quality and quantity of food served, and in general direct all matters pertaining to the interests of the institution. Their duties bring them in contact with much of the dark side of life, and often they are able, at least, in some degree to dispel the heavy clouds.

Our Visiting Committee, in their calls at the homes of the children who attend our school and are provided with dinner, generally find them tidy, although indicating extreme poverty; the parents express gratitude for the instruction and aid given their children, and are doubtless encouraged by this aid to make greater efforts to struggle against adverse circumstances. The last Wednesday of each month the parents and relatives of the children living in the Home are permitted to visit them. One or more of our managers are present to receive them, and there are usually from fifty to seventy-five who avail of this privilege, most of them expressing gratitude that their children are so kindly cared for, and generally bringing some gift expressive of their love for them.

The Home is open on Tuesdays for the reception of visitors interested in our work, though they are never refused admission when not convenient to call on that day.

The duties of our Work Committee have been arduous, but have been faithfully performed, as will be seen by the following report :

Our Distributing Committee have given to the children in the Home 2,922 garments and 551 pairs of shoes; to dormitories 466 sheets, etc.; to outside poor 151 garments, making a total of 4,090 articles distributed.

We have had thirty little children under three years of age in our nursery this past year. Twelve now remain—we call them our "babies." They have been well, with the exception of measles, which was of an unusually severe form, five died from the effects of it—the other little ones grieved for them and talked about them a great deal, till one little one decided they had "gone away to God's flower garden," for she "saw the flowers in their hands," when they were all quite comforted and happy again.

They call the nurse "mama," and are very fond of each other. They are sometimes made very happy by the thoughtful kindness of some mother who sends her babies' broken toys or cast-off shoes to the Home, and a stranger would be amused to see the anxiety with which the flock of little ones wait to see who is the fortunate baby whose fat little feet are to fit in the blue or pink "tied" shoes, and when the question is settled, the happy owner is followed about all day by an admiring crowd of babies. Will not more of our friends remember us when their babies' toys or shoes are thrown aside?

Mr. J. J. Cooke, seeing the needs of the sick, kindly sent to the hospital one dozen wire sackings, that made the beds really comfortable, as well as very tidy. Will other friends do likewise and supply the dormitories with beds that shall be a real rest to these needy children?

The ages of our children range from two to fourteen years. Some we have with us for months and years, others only come under our influence for a few days or weeks, yet an impress is made upon them that must affect their future lives. A little girl ten years old, whose mother was dead, and whom the father was unable to control, was brought to us, she, with more vicious companions, had been in the streets at all hours of the night. The question was, "would she contaminate our other children, or could we benefit her?" She was received in the Home, where for a time she was as sullen and restless as a caged wild animal, but patience, with firm, kind treatment soon effected a change; she became obedient to rules, her sullen scowls gave place to smiles and it is now but seldom that she gives way to what she calls one of her "bad tempers." Another case was a girl twelve years old, whose mother was a confirmed drunkard; the child had been sent at late hours of the night to saloons for liquor, seeing and learning much of evil. She was received and we have been in a measure able to overcome the evil influences to which she had been exposed, and to-day she is in our Home, a pleasant, happy little girl, not perfect, but promising well. Still another case, is that of a girl of twelve years, whose parents were both dead; the relative who had charge of her wished to place her in some reformatory, representing her as "utterly untruthful and unmanageable." The child came to us and her bright face and pleasant ways, and above all, her friendless condition, appealed strongly to our sympathy. We do not find her a faultless child, but we have as yet failed to find in her the symptoms of depravity described to us. We often wonder that children who have been so badly trained, so exposed to all vicious influences, so sadly lacking all the tender influences of early home training and christian teaching, should so readily forget the past and conform to discipline and habits of order and neatness.

Our Corresponding Secretary reports that during the past year, three children have been surrendered to the Association, three have been indentured and two have been adopted. We have received many interesting letters from children who have left us and gone to other homes. These children almost without an exception manifest a spirit of gratitude for what has been done for them—a joy in their present homes and a fond recollection of the happy days spent in our institution.

We have received the gratuitous services, as resident physician of Drs. Crump, Kortright and Hart, and the dental services of Dr. Harreys. The Managers would express their thanks for these services, as well as for the faithful oversight of our consulting physician, whose report we here present.

To the Managers of the Home of the Industrial School :

LADIES :—It gives me great pleasure to report, that at present the sanitary condition of the children in the Home is most excellent.

During the year past we had to deal with an unusually severe epidemic of the measles, but with that exception the children have had no unusual diseases. Six deaths occurred, four by Croup sequel to the Measles, and two by Pneumonia—all under four years of age.

A reference to the records of the Hospital will show in detail the various ailments and the result of the treatment.

Very respectfully,

C. H. SCHAPPS,

Consulting Physician.

October 1, 1880.

Our School Committee report the condition of our school as excellent. The whole school is now under the care of Miss Whittlesey, and the scholars show great proficiency in their studies, particularly in their writing ; even the youngest are taught to copy letters and figures on their slates. Some of our managers have made little gifts to the children as rewards for well doing, and by their kind words of commendation have stimulated the scholars to greater effort and higher aspirations.

The sewing classes are quite an important feature in our work. Some of the managers, assisted by friends of the institution, meet with the older girls an hour after school each day and instruct them in sewing, at the same time instilling into their minds desires for usefulness and respectability. All the children, including the boys, are taught habits of industry and are required to assist in the lighter work of the Home. Most of our children have remained in the Home during the Summer, as we were unable on account of sickness to avail of Mr. Douglass' kind invitation for the children to visit Coney Island, except in the case of twenty-five convalescent ones, who were entertained for a week and were much benefited by the ocean breezes.

The festive days of the year have brought cheer to all. A bountiful dinner was provided on Thanksgiving Day, of which not only the Home children partook, but also the scholars who reside with their parents. At Christmas our liberal friends filled 1,200 bags with useful articles, which found their way to our doors and helped to make many hearts glad. We were obliged to postpone our anniversary in the Spring, as many of the children were sick, but at our recent fruit and flower festival, held September 29, reports were read, addresses were made by Rev. Almon Gunnison and Rev. Y. Peyton Morgan, and the children entertained their friends with song and recitation, doing credit to themselves as well as their faithful instructor. A fruit and flower festival was also held October 9, 1879, which resulted in adding quite a handsome sum to our treasury, as well as giving our friends another opportunity of becoming better acquainted with our work.

A happy day to the Board of Managers was the 22d day of February, when we formally opened our doors and welcomed our friends to our completed new building. Many days of peculiar interest have come to us ; but the great event of the past year, to the workers for the institution, was the Grand Union Fair, which was held March 30, 31, and April 1, the result of which enabled us to meet all outstanding obligations on the new wing, beside making needed improvements on the old building and helping us to enclose our beautiful cemetery lot with a substantial fence. To all who aided us in this effort, either by gifts of time, labor, material or patronage, we tender our hearty thanks ; and may their reward be in the commendation of the Master, " Inasmuch as ye have done it unto one of the least of these ye have done it unto Me."

We also remember with gratitude our young friends who have held fairs for our benefit, the Misses Nettie Easterbrook, Blanche Barclay, Rose Easterbrook and Agnes Kneeland of Bedford avenue, also the Misses Mary E. Hall, Mary Sniffen, Alice Sembler, Lizzie Wallen, Mary Fairchild, Millie Keene, Mary Scott, Annie Baird and Masters Andrew Baird, William Sembler, Bertie Taylor, Washburn Keene, Joseph Scott and Alva Brown of Hooper street, and Misses Mary Farrell, Lizzie T. Hall and Master Frank E. Baion, and George W. Ade. The proceeds of this last mentioned fair were appropriated for a burial fund. They have made a good investment, for " He that hath pity upon the poor, lendeth to the Lord ; and that which he hath given will he pay him again."

Our thanks are also due to our well tried friends, the merchants, butchers, bakers and mechanics of this district ; also to members of the New York Fishmongers' Association ; and to our professional friends, ministers, lawyers and physicians, who have kindly served us, and to "The Brooklyn Daily Times," for many favors.

While we are grateful for the past, the opening year calls for increasing labor and sacrifice ; for the Master has said, " The poor ye have always with you, and whensocver ye will, ye may do them good."

JOHN BROACH, Treasurer.

As we are a very practical people, and particularly practical in our charities, we have thought it advisable to append a detailed list of our present needs :

First—We need money; we want young misses to teach the smaller children plays; we want young ladies and gentlemen to assist in a service of song on the Sabbath, that it may not be a long weary day to the inmates; we invite Sunday School teachers to urge their pupils to lay aside a penny per day, week or month, to pay the board of one or more children. The following articles are continually needed :

GROCERIES.—Teas, coffees, sugar, hominy, indian-meal, flour, salt, starch, syrup, soap, spices, mustard, salt-fish, salt pork, pickles, vinegar, beans, pepper, candles, etc.

VEGETABLES.—Potatoes, turnips, onions, cabbage, beets, carrots, etc.

DRUGS.—Cod liver oil, castor oil, rhubarb, paregoric, laudanum, alcohol, adhesive plaster, camphor, lint, court plaster, salve, Pond's extracts, etc.

DRY GOODS.—Flannels, mu-lin, calicos, woolen goods, Kentucky jean, towels, cotton goods, table cloths, handkerchiefs, stockings, bed covers, cotton batting, boys and girls hats, hooks and eyes, suspenders, buttons, pins, needles, thread, cotton, sewing silk, shoe strings, braid, tape, scissors, thimbles, combs, brushes, iron holders, old linen, scrub cloth, etc.

HOUSE FURNISHING.—Door mats, lanterns, candle sticks, brooms, grid irons, sad irons, brushes, pails, crockery, clothes pins, tin cups, clothes lines, wash boards, Mangle's clothes horse, towel racks, water pails, bedstead, bureau, carpet, mattress, wash stand for one room. Meats of all kinds, new and second hand clothing, fruits, etc.
